

I receive traffic and other information from paid cable TV service so what's the difference from that and receiving the same from XM radio?
I only use this (XM) service from my motor home so it's invaluable to me when I away from home base.